User Story

- As a curious individual who loves learning about different countries and their cultures, I want to use a website that provides information on the population of each country along with its respective capital city.

- Upon navigating to the site, I am presented with a user-friendly interface that allows me to easily search for a specific country or browse through a list of all the countries. The search function is intuitive and delivers results quickly, so I can find the information I need without much delay.

- Once I've found the country I'm interested in, the website displays the current population figure and some additional statistics about the country. Alongside this, I can see the name of the capital city and a separate figure for its population. This data is presented in clear, concise charts and graphs that make it easy for me to understand.

- If I want to compare countries, I can simply open multiple tabs and view the relevant data side-by-side. I also appreciate that the website updates its information regularly, ensuring that the statistics presented are always accurate

- Overall, this website has been a valuable resource for me to learn more about different countries and their populations, and I would highly recommend it to anyone else with an interest .
